Particular People.

Our customers are particular people, and we are glad of it, for we are a little particular ourselves. People who are particular about the goods they buy, who insist upon perfection as to durability, goods to be as represented, best materials and quality, are people who know what they ought to pay for goods and who refuse to pay exorbitant prices.

As we have said we are particular ourselves. Particular in selecting our goods, and we do our own selecting, from the best concerns in the country; insist upon the very highest grade of goods, and as we pay the plank down cash for every dollar's worth of goods purchased we get them at the lowest notch, and that is the secret of now we can sell first class stock at a price which most dealers ask for second class and inferior goods.

We are especially particular in the selection of our stock of drugs and medicines. They must always be up to the standard, pure and fresh. We pride ourselves in this department, and truthfully believe that we have drugs and medicines for all the aches and pains known to the human race, and to the animal kingdom as well. We keep none but what we can recommend, and it is always wise to keep an assortment of goods, true and tried remedies on hand, so that they may be near when wanted, for it is a fact that many lives are saved, and diseases prevented, by having the right medicine at the right time, and in time.

And while we are especially particular with our stock of drugs and medicines, we are equally particular in the selection of our paints, oils and brushes. We are the oldest house in the county dealing in these goods, and we have this class of goods down pat. We keep no inferior paints or oils, and it is for that reason wherever you see paint spread that comes from our store it is always found to wear well and is first class in all particulars.

Our wall paper and window shade dep't has a well established reputation, and we are as particular of this department as we are of any other in our mammoth store. Styles and patterns have never been more pretty than they are now, and as to prices you can paper your entire home for little or no money. The cheapness of our paper will surprise you, as well as our designs will delight. Come in and look over the stock whether you wish to purchase or not.

We still handle anything and everything in the book and stationery line, and keep this department up as well as can be found in any first class exclusive book and stationery store. Respectfully,

SAUR & BALSLEY.

50th Birthday Remembered. The 7th of May, being the 50th birthday of the estimable wife of Henry Westinghausen, of Flatrock township, some 40 or 50 of her neighbors gathered at her comfortable home on that day, to assist her in celebrating the occasion. A jolly time was experienced, and the day will long be remembered by all who took part in the social event. Mrs. W. was the recipient of several useful presents, remembrances of the occasion and the esteem in which she is held by her neighbors. Mr. and Mrs. Westinghausen live to celebrate the century mark and their diamond wedding.

Ralph Wright and Fannie Showman Narrowly Escape Drowning. Last Sunday evening Ralph Wright of this place, and Miss Fannie Showman, of Texas, met with an experience which they are not likely soon to forget. They had been out driving and were returning home along the canal road late in the evening. When about one-fourth mile east of Texas a sudden storm came up and the horse became unmanageable and plunged over the canal bank, which at this point is about twenty feet high and very steep. The buggy and its occupants, and also the horse, went crashing down the bank and into the water, the horse and buggy being entirely submerged. Very fortunately Wright was not entangled in the wreckage, and on coming to the surface his first thought was of the lady. He called to her, and receiving no answer concluded that she must be entangled in the wrecked buggy, which was lying top down in the water, so he dove into the water and found her fast in the top of the buggy, and succeeded in rescuing her from her perilous position and bringing her safely to land. After ascertaining that she was not seriously injured he went back into the water and cut the harness and released the horse. The buggy was badly damaged.

Miss Showman's husband owes her life to the presence of mind and prompt action of Mr. Wright. She was at once taken to her home, and aside from being badly frightened was none the worse for her involuntary bath. It was a narrow escape for both of them.—Liberty Press.

Mr. James Perdue, an old soldier residing at Monroe, Mich., was severely afflicted with rheumatism but received prompt relief from pain by using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. He says: "At times my back would ache so badly that I could hardly raise up. If I had not gotten relief I would not be here to write these few lines. Chamberlain's Pain Balm has done me a great deal of good and I am very thankful for it." For sale by D. J. Humphrey, Napoleon, O. 1m

Gov. Campbell's Silver Views.

A special from New York, of Saturday, says: Former Governor James E. Campbell, of Ohio, spent several hours yesterday in Wall street, with Colonel Gurley, of his state.

When he returned to the Metropole late in the afternoon he expressed himself in favor of free silver, but with a restriction, to which he said even Wall street would not seriously object.

"The leaders of the silver movement in the democratic party are conservative and will work earnestly to prevent any such catastrophe. The idea I would like to see adopted is this:

"I declare for free silver. Demand that the government at Washington, though the president and congress, issue a call to the commercial nations of both hemispheres to meet in conference with us at Washington for the one purpose specified in the call, of devising a method of putting silver on a par with gold as money of the world.

The conference occurring, we would agree with such nations as we could. Such as agreed with us we could of special tariff favors on the reciprocity principle. To such as did not we could turn a tariff cold shoulder. We are every nation's best customer and all would at last be glad to agree.

"Should none agree with us, I would have this nation declare for free silver on its sole responsibility and fix a date, as for instance, January 1, 1899, when silver and gold would meet at our mints for coinage on equal terms. This would leave an open time of two years in which trade would adjust itself to the new conditions.

"All conferences so far have merely been child's play. This one would be different. France and Germany are now on the verge of adopting silver. They need only a slight incentive to push them over the line.

"With France, Germany and America in the field England would be actually obliged to come in. We could make things so warm for her by tariff and reciprocity treaties that she would accede to the terms adopted. When this country is in earnest England yields every time. That has been repeatedly shown, particularly of late.

SPEAKING of the recent act of the House of Representatives, wherein it voted $216,000 of the people's money to pay for clerks in the congress is not in session, the Philadelphia Record has the following to say: "There is no legislative body in the world so costly to the people as the congress of the United States. The senate has added to the extra expenditures above the yearly salary of its members one item after another until the pay for subordinate service is nearly as great as sum paid for senatorial service. The House is following swiftly this bad example. What shall be thought of the hypocritical outcry about the depression of business, the necessity of economy and the depletion of the treasury after this raid upon the pockets of the people, whereby each member will be enabled not only to draw his own salary but to make the government pay another man for the labor he should do himself?"

There is nothing that causes worry greater discomfort and misery than the constantly recurring headache. Men suffer less with headache. "My wife's health was very indifferent, having headache continually, and just two packages of Simmons' Liver Regulator released her from her headache and gave tone and vigor to her whole system. I have never regretted its use."—M. B. DeBord, Mt. Vernon, Ky.

COUNTERFEIT silver quarters of the date 1896, are said to be in circulation. The bad figures are said to be poor, but otherwise the coin is a very fair imitation of the genuine article, although it has a hollowing.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

More About the Royal Arcanum.

The Napoleon Council No. 1156 met last Friday evening with the usual attendance. After the necessary business was transacted and recess taken, at which time refreshments were served, it was decided upon to celebrate the 10th anniversary of the founding of the Royal Arcanum by a social gathering at the Rink Opera House on the evening of June 23rd, at 7:30 p. m.

The following committees were chosen to look after the matter and see to it that all necessary arrangements be made to secure for the invited guests a royal good time: Committee on Reception: Frank Wilson, Gale B. Orwig, J. C. Musser, Mrs. Jas. Donovan, Mrs. L. L. Orwig and Mrs. F. J. Beck.

Committee on Music: Dr. A. E. H. Maerker. Committee on Rink: J. L. Halter. Committee on Toasts: Isaiah Leist. Committee on Invitations: F. J. Beck, L. L. Orwig, R. Weisbach and Henry Kolbe.

It will be well enough to state right here that the object of this social gathering is not alone for the purpose of satisfying hunger and thirst and having a good time all around, but it is to show to the outside world that provisions have been made in case of the death of a brother that his wife and children are provided for; with these pleasant associations and the knowledge of this fact is all the compensation desired by the surviving brother. We know that it will help to soothe the despairing cries, to answer some of the prayers, and it will help to still the wail of anguish and succor the oppressed. Now with these facts staring us square in the face, it behooves every Royal Member to be present on this occasion and assist in making it a success which will induce others to join with us.
